MANAGEMENT AND LEADERSHIP SKILLS

Project manager

I was project manager for two national research projects and one local project. I coordinated a team of four young researchers.

Assistant Manager

I was assistant manager in a project dedicated to increase genetic diagnostic capacity at regional level.

COMMUNICATION AND INTERPERSONAL SKILLS

Empathy

As a medical doctor involved in rare diseases field it is very important to be able to empathize with patients and their families both understand how they are feeling and the reason for their communication, as well as how to communicate back. Empathy helps me better communicate and collaborate with patients and their families.

Positivity

I communicate in a positive way because I learned that my energy bounce off and has a positive effect on others. My positive attitude helps others to look on the bright side of the point I am making.

Teamwork

I am an effective team member involves being able to communicate and share ideas with my colleagues. I have good listening and verbal skills to cooperate with others. I am part of the team of Regional Centre of Medical Genetics Dolj.
